fun croquet, petanque, quoits and quornhole for groups

QUINTESSENTIAL LAWN GAMES...

Lawn games have long been an English tradition: to give them a new and international spin, we have created a package of our four fun and competitive games to suit a free-play format combined with afternoon tea or with drinks to go with a BBQ or before dinner. We provide expert coaching for the croquet and petanque, and easy-to-understand instructions for self-play for the quoits and quornhole (really US cornhole).

CROQUET: quintessentially English, seemingly genteel but in fact great fun, and very engaging and tactical, if not outrightly vicious!

PETANQUE: let everyone show their flair and feel French for a while; our black and silver metal boules make sure everyone knows they're part of one équipe or the other.

QUOITS: quite British - but forget the Scottish/Welsh long game, the Northern or East Anglian game, and play our game with target zones and hobs (stakes to you and me).

QUORNHOLE: players throw 'corn kernel' bags from one board to the other and back again; 3 points for a bag in the hole and 1 point for a bag that remains on the board.

QUALITY EQUIPMENT: forget cheap garden centre sets and expect quality equipment from leading manufacturers in their field - proper Jaques croquet mallets and balls, the right weight and diameter of petanque boules, steel-reinforced British rope quoits (so you can forget floppy for a start), and full-size cornhole boards made to US specs.

LAWN GAMES FOR FREE PLAY: space allowing, two croquet lawns and two petanque lanes, each run by an experienced Quorporate Games coach; plus, for self-play, two quoits boards and two pairs of quornhole boards. Quite the package, no?

NUMBERS: based on the above, numbers at any one time likely to be around 25-30 guests; short games encouraged so more people can play later. Enough to keep 100 or so guests busy if combined with drinks and food and/or other outdoor activities...
